the Ugly Beaste. A Pinto Indian of eastern Tabasco adopted a novel method of catching alligators. The Indian's wespons were a harpoon, a staut club and a coil of tarred lariats. For baft he used a sucking pig, a box of something which smelled offensively and several chunks of half reasted ment.

Selecting an overhanging bough about six yards from the water's edge, the Indian stripped off its leaves and suspended from the fork the squealing pig. That was the bait for the eyes and ears of the alligator.

Opening the box, he used its offen sive contents to grease a string, one end of which he tied to a bush, and, weighting the other with a piece of wood, threw it into the river. That was the nose buit.

Between the thicket and the water's edge was a long sand dam, capped with a row of gnaried logs. Taking the chunks of ment, he pisced them Parents Believe Child is Held For $17,at equal intervals between the beach and the ridge of the dam. "This is my grub beit," said the Indian. "It will make him mount the barreea" (barricade).

Stimulating the pig with a kick that eaused it to squeal for the next ten minutes, the Indian waited in ambush, harpoon in hand. One end of a long lariet was fastened to it and the other to a tough clastic sapling. The sun

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise nequired weaknesses. To reach the seast of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Billousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after esting, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.
